

SciBase Expands Further Through European Market with First Sales Order to customer in Italy

SWEDEN – June 4, 2025 – SciBase Holding AB ("SciBase") [STO: SCIB], a leading developer of augmented intelligence-based solutions for skin disorders, today announced its first order from an Italian dermatology practice, marking a major step forward in the company's European expansion strategy. This follows the registration of Nevisense in Italy in February and the launch of the regional Italian version in April.

The order comes from Studio Fabbrocini a prominent dermatology center located in Naples, Italy,

"I am very proud to be part of a lifesaving project to address the critical issue of melanoma in Italy. I firmly believe Kilabs will play a crucial role in securing appropriate deployment of Nevisense thanks to our high expertise and introduction in the field", says Michelangelo Simonelli CEO of Kilabs Srl.

"I am delighted to announce our first sale achieved by our esteemed Italian partner. This achievement marks a significant milestone in our shared commitment to driving innovation and excellence. Together, we are advancing healthcare solutions that will bring immense benefits to patients and pave the way for a healthier future, says Pia Renaudin, CEO of SciBase.
